Surround yourself with beauty that's Naturally Michigan

At The Preserve at All Saints Cemetery in Waterford, you can feel and hear the beauty of your natural surroundings. In fact it is the only “green” and natural burial site in southeastern Michigan.

The Preserve sits beautifully on Maceday Lake adjacent to – but separate from – All Saints. It is a beautiful 50-acre area that adjoins to natural woodlands, and includes plants native to the state of Michigan.

At The Preserve traditions matter. We honor the important traditions of the funeral in a way consistent with a nature preserve. You will experience open spaces, and rolling landscapes leading to beautiful protected marshland and Maceday Lake. A peaceful stream running continuously near The Preserve entrance provides a sense of true conservation uninterrupted by statues and memorials.

How can we help you pre-plan?
Contact a counselor at All Saints and The Preserve to discuss all of the pre-planning options available.

Enjoy a peaceful setting that truly does memorialize those who desire simpler and more environmentally friendly burial options.

We welcome you to visit us at The Preserve and see for yourself the difference a “green,” natural burial site can make in memorializing you or your loved ones.
